

PUZZLEBOMB PRESENTS

PZZYULE

PZZYULE: by @stecks
and @apaultaylor.

seasonal
building blocks

noise when Santa steps
on a floorboard

relevant evening

spiced biscuit pains

popcorn with pastry lids

food eaten by GPs

duplicate in Bethlehem

if Noddy were
the monarch

us straight
rulers

dress code at the north pole on Fridays

italian food making
noise above us

one studying at cambridge college

Elizabeth's fruit

hit in the face with a plate of custard, forcefully

at the same time
as assault on sheep

cancels nation
west of Armenia

this short-lived wintery
construction is pants inexperienced Boris

Eighteen Christmassy phrases have been modified, by adding a letter to one word and jumbling that word. The results are clued above. Identify the original phrases, which fall into four categories, and the extra letters from each category will spell (in some order) an additional word, of no great thematic significance, clued below.

Clues to final words:

Might be a bear; Might be a pair

Might be called Frank; Got from a bank